MEANS TO AN END

Are integrated end tables having a moment? We think they might be – and Minotti's Supermoon seating system, designed by Giampiero Tagliaferri for the brand's latest collection, is a case in point. The crescent-shaped sofa – available with or without armrests – curves towards a marble or wood-topped surface at one end, the perfect spot to place your drink or bowl of snacks. Supermoon seating system, price on request, Minotti

LIMITED EDITION

It's been 60 years since Poltrona Frau released its iconic Dezza armchair. To celebrate, the brand has unveiled a limited edition featuring an illustration by Gio Ponti, who dreamed up the original design. Line drawings of stylised hands in a summery blue are translated onto Pelle Frau Impact Less leather, part of the brand's efforts towards sustainable leather processing. Dezza chair, price on request, Poltrona Frau

New tradition

Bettina Ceramica was founded by Natalie Sytner to celebrate traditional Italian ceramics, showcasing artists, makers and factories from across the country and presenting their wares – often part of very small or even one-off batches – to us lucky shoppers. The terracotta basket, which evokes a woven pattern through its markings, is our pick. £130, Bettina Ceramica
